POLICY REGARDING RELEASE OF INSIDE INFORMATION & INSIDER TRADING
(APRIL 18, 2020)

It is imperative to capital markets that all persons investing in securities listed on public stock exchanges have equal access to information that may affect their investment decisions. Public confidence in the integrity of the capital markets requires timely disclosure of material information concerning the business and affairs of reporting issuers, such as the Company.

The following description of the Company's policy regarding the release of inside information and insider trading is to be observed by all insiders of the Company:

- If you possess material, non-public information relating to the Company, you may not pass any such information onto others;
- You may not trade your Company securities during the period commencing 10 days prior to the end of each fiscal quarter and year end, and ending on the second trading day following the release by the Company of its quarterly and annual results, as applicable, nor within 10 days prior to the filing of a price reservation form or press release setting the price of a prospective offering of the Company's securities;
- If you have access to inside information or undisclosed material information, you may not trade in the Company's securities without the approval of the Company's CEO and CFO;
- If you obtain undisclosed material information relating to any other entity, including customers, suppliers or partners of the Company, you may not buy or sell securities of that entity;
- You should not trade in call or put options or short-sell the securities of the Company, and should acquire these securities only as a long term investment;
- Failure to comply with this policy will result in disciplinary action, which may include termination of employment, the imposition of fines, and the possible referral to applicable governmental authorities;
- This policy should be viewed as the minimum criteria for compliance with insider trading laws. Additional guidance should be sought when uncertainty exists regarding a contemplated transaction;
- This policy applies to persons who acquire information from a source known by them to be in a "special relationship" with the Company (eg. spouses and close friends of directors or officers of the Company);
- Insiders are required to file reports on the System for Electronic Disclosure by Insiders (SEDI) as and when necessary, and to provide the Company with confirmation of such filing.

The directors of the Company will monitor the developments and the various changes to these guidelines and, where applicable, amend this policy accordingly.
